Empire Day will soon be here and as the public know Didsbury will hold a celebration on that day. This is the first time in the history of Didsbury that a celebration has been held on that day and it is to be hoped that it will be a success financially and in every other way. The surplus funds, if there are any after the celebration, will go to a good cause, that of helping the band clear off their indebtedness, and as they are willing to give the public the benefit of their work they should be heartily supported.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts freely at each application. For sale by all dealers.

A man by the name of Gadsby of the Toronto Star gives his impressions of the west in a recent issue of that paper. A great deal of talk and criticism has taken place in the last few months about the east and the west not understanding one another, and we guarantee that so long as the east allows men like this Gadsby to run around loose the east will never understand the west because of the untruths that are told about the west. The writer of this article quite naturally takes a whack at the real estate wild catting that is going on in the west and with this part of the article we have not much objection, although he may be too caustic in a great many instances, but here is the piece that we think calls for comment:

"In the second place the grass is very green. Another lie. There is no green grass in the northwest. It never gets a chance. The best it can do is a disheartened dun color. If one patch of green grass ever showed itself the community that was so blessed would declare a public holiday and send a sample of the strange stuff to Ottawa to be analyzed."

What do you think of that, ye settlers of the Didsbury district? Is it not enough to make us weep to think that a man who is supposed to have brains enough to be able to read, let alone write, should deliver himself of such a screed against the west when any person who knows anything at all about the country of our adoption knows that there is no country under the sun which produces better grass or has better stock feeding qualities than we have right in this province of Sunny Alberta. Perhaps it would be better to ignore such an article as this, but if the writer should be given a dose of his own medicine, that is, that the Provincial governments should take action to correct real estate abuses, and correct men like him, a better feeling would exist between the east and the west.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

Every employee of the Bank of England is required to sign his name in a book on his arrival in the morning, and, if late, must give the reason therefor. The chief cause of tardiness is usually fog, and the first man to arrive writes "fog" opposite his name, and those who follow write "ditto." One day, however, the first late man gave as the reason, "wife had twins," and twenty other late men mechanically signed "ditto" underneath.

Homestead Map

A publication which should prove of considerable interest to the prospective settler or to the student of the growth of western Canada has recently been prepared in and is now being issued from the Railway Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior. This publication, which is known as the Peace River or northern Alberta homestead map, graphically illustrates by a comparatively simple system of coloring the land situated in that country, including as it does complete information with respect to the disposal of lands, location of timber belts and forest reserves, nature of the soil, etc. An interesting feature of the color scheme is the fact that it enables an observer to procure at a glance a complete grasp of the present land situation, not only with regard to those lands which have been taken up during the past year, but also with respect to lands previously homesteaded but for which patents have not yet issued, thus also enabling a person to trace the progress during recent years of settlement in the Peace River district. The aim in the preparation of the map has been to show the land situation up to the beginning of the present year and in view of the rapid exhaustion of free homesteads throughout the older prairie provinces the information should prove of particular interest to settlers.

In addition to the information with respect to lands which have been homesteaded and otherwise disposed of, the publication contains complete information regarding postoffices, railways, topography, etc.

Copies may be obtained free of charge upon application to the Superintendent of Railway Lands, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

May Rod and Gun

Every sportsman interested in the welfare of Canada's fish and game resources should read the May number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., which contains the first chapter of the final report of Mr. Kelly Evans of the Ontario Game and Fisheries Commission. Mr. Evans has spent two years in the preparation of this report and the information contained therein and the recommendations which Mr. Evans makes as to a broader policy of administration should be read by every sportsman. "An Idea Canadian Holiday" will appeal to those who already have visions of a summer outing. Trap-shooters will find their interests particularly well looked after in this month's issue which contains in addition to the usual department news and scores a specially illustrated article by "Canuck" on the Easter Inter-Club Shoots between Montreal and St. Hubert clubs.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all dealers.

OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I had been doctoring for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor all to no avail. When a young girl I sprained my ankle three different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago a small spot showed upon my left ankle, I was worried and sent for a doctor. He said it was eczema. He drew a small bone from the ankle about the size of a match and about an inch long. The small hole grew to about the size of an apple, and the eczema spread to the knee. The doctors never could heal the hole in the ankle. The whole foot ran water all the time.

"My husband and my sons were up night and day wheeling me from one room to another in the hope of giving me some relief. I would sit for hours at a time in front of the fireplace hoping for daybreak. The pain was so intense I was almost crazy in fact. I would lose my reason for hours at a time. One day a friend of mine dropped in to see me. No more had she glanced at my foot than she exclaimed, 'Mrs. Finnegan, why in the world don't you try the Cuticura Remedies?' Being disgusted with the doctors and their medicines, and not being able to sleep at all, I decided to give the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment a trial. After using them three days that night I slept as sound as a silver dollar for eight long hours. I awoke in the morning with but very little pain, in fact, I thought I was in heaven. After using the Cuticura Remedies for three months I was perfectly restored to health, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I will be sixty-four years of age my next birthday, hale and hearty at present." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Finnegan, 2234 Herbert St., St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 7, 11.

HAUNTED

BY GERTRUDE WARDEN

Author of "Dancing Leaves," "The Sentimental Sex," "The Crime of Monte Carlo," etc., etc.

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne and Toronto

There is the seamy young man as come afore," Granmer Jessop said. "I zeed my leady letten' en drough the geates. An' he brought that vorren girl wi' en yester mornen'. You did let en drough, Susan."

Susan looked as though she would have liked to express her opinion about the "foreign girl," but Harry was too eager to find himself in Lady Anne's presence to linger by the lodge. Lady Anne was in the rose garden, the young woman said. She would announce him?

But he wanted to take her by surprise, and as he remembered quite well where the rose garden was situated, he made his way to it, crossing in front of the house and going round by the chapel into the cloister court.

A large rectangular space, bordered on one side by the house and outbuilding, on the opposite side by a ruined wall, and the other two by the fragments of the cloister walks, overhung by ivy and creepers, contained Lady Anne's rose garden, which would have been celebrated had it been known to the world.

Here in this delicious riot of color and perfume, Harry, pictorial to himself that this exquisite woman, capable of infinite love and tenderness, soothed her lonely soul with visions of beauty. The old favorites were there—heavy Merechal Niel, and great pale La France, and dainty orange-coloured Alan Richardson, and cabbage roses of vivid pink; new combinations of color rivalled them, roses of greenish white, roses almost black in their outer leaves, with blood red inner petals, and even the wild rose, clambering over the broken arches of the cloisters of windows as though they belonged to the palace of the Sleeping Beauty.

As to his queen rose herself, he could see her standing near an old sundial in one of the narrow garden paths. About the base of the dial tall white garden lilies were growing, and Harry thought of Leopold Sarto's words as he saw her standing in her white dress among them.

She wore a shade hat and loose gardening gloves and held a pruning knife in her hand. In spite of the roses and the sunlight there was something tense and almost tragic in the picture she made. She was talking in low, eager tones to a tall broad-shouldered man, who was evidently the gardener. He resembled his brother, John Anning, but he was younger, and his weather-beaten face was comelier and more expressive than that of the farmer.

George Anning was indeed listening to his mistress with all his soul in his eyes; and Harry, coming quietly along the cloistered way, drew so near to them without being observed that the tones of Lady Anne's voice, raised a little in her excitement, were borne to him.

"I tell you, George, it will kill me! I cannot hear it any longer."

As she spoke the man suddenly perceived Harry, and put his finger to his lip. Lady Anne started violently, and waited for a moment, as though to compose her features before she greeted the newcomer. Then she bowed coldly enough, and did not offer him her hand, which he had only once touched, on the evening when she had helped him down the broken steps among the ruins.

"This is my rose garden, Mr. Worth," she said while George Anning, after bestowing a somewhat malevolent look on Harry, walked away. "I have a good collection, have I not?"

She seemed hardly to listen while he praised the flowers, but watched the retreating figure of the gardener.

As soon as he was lost to view her manner changed.

"I have sent for you, Mr. Worth," she said eagerly, "because I want you to tell me something!"

CHAPTER XIX.

Lady Anne Breaks Down.

"Come with me into the fruit garden," Lady Anne said. "Here one is so overlooked by the windows of the house it is impossible to talk naturally."

Then, as she noted a look of surprise on his face, she added, with a slow smile:

"Mine is such a strange household, you see, Mr. Worth."

"I know."

"How do you know?" she asked quickly, with a note of proud suspicion in her voice.

"I heard about it from your French maid," he replied.

Lady Anne frowned.

A silly, empty-headed chatterbox," she said as she stopped before a standard rose tree and clipped a twig. "What nonsense did she repeat to you?"

"She told me what increases the deep respect I had for you already."

of your goodness to a poor, paralyzed old man, and to some other unfortunates whom you befriended."

Lady Anne stood quite still for a moment.

"And she say anything more?" she asked in a constrained tone.

"Very little. Some chatter about a man who called and wanted to see you."

"It was abominable impertinence!" Lady Anne broke in. "Years ago these ruins were shown to visitors, and some man had the impudence to push past Mrs. Jessop at the gates yesterday and walk up to the house while I was out."

"The man is impudent enough for anything," Harry observed. "I have met him."

"Really? Where?"

"In the grounds of Lyllyngton Court, the day before yesterday."

"Ah, yes! It is about that walk of yours I wish to speak to you."

She led him through a breach in the ruined wall to a more haunted portion of the grounds. Here apples and pears were trained in the French fashion on wires along the borders of beds given up to strawberries and to asparagus; peaches ripened on a sunny wall, and glass-houses sheltered vines and tomatoes, while beyond stood a little forest of fruit trees.

Lady Anne led him to a seat near an old well. A child, who was playing with a toy horse near it, rose and fled at her approach.

BORDERING ON THE MIRACULOUS

JOHN McELROY'S HEART TROUBLE CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Could Not Work All Summer, and Doctor Failed to Help, but Cure Was Quick When He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Benton, N. B.—(Special.)—Bordering on the miraculous is the cure of John McElroy, a young man well known here. He was suffering from heart trouble and was so bad that all last summer he was not able to do a day's work. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. In telling the story of his cure, Mr. McElroy says:

"I went to a doctor, who said I had palpitation, but his medicine did not seem to reach the spot. I suffered for over a year and all last summer I was not able to do a day's work. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, and I was always tired and nervous. I perspired freely with the least exertion."

"After I had finished taking the doctor's medicine, and as I felt no better, I read in an almanac what Dodd's Kidney Pills could do and made up my mind to try them. Before I had finished the first box I felt different, and by the time the second was half gone I was working in the woods and doing good work."

THERE'S no mistaking the expression of a man whose farm is well "improved."

He looks as prosperous as he feels.

It isn't the size of a place that counts most, nor its actual dollars-and-cents value. It's rather that "well-kept," thrifty appearance; the appearance that makes you think of fat stock, and well-filled barns, and comfortable, contented living.

Neat, permanent improvements go further in giving a farm this appearance than any other feature.

Concrete Is The Ideal Material

for such improvements. It is neat, harmonizing with its surroundings in the country. Everlasting, it cannot be injured by fire, frost, wind or lightning. Age—instead of causing it to decay—actually makes it stronger.

Concrete never needs repair—first cost is last cost. New improvements can be added year after year with less expense than would be required to keep wooden structures in repair.

Concrete walks, feeding floors, dairy-barns, ice-houses, root-cellar, well-curbings, fence posts, silos—which of these does your farm need most? Whatever you want to build, it's best to build it of concrete.

Do you want to know more about this subject of permanent farm improvements? Then write for your copy of

"What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

It's a book of 100 pages, telling how other farmers have used the "handy material" to good advantage. Published to sell at 50c. a copy, it is now being offered free to all farmers who write for it. Address

A STRONG NAVAL POLICY WILL BE ADOPTED BY CANADA

At Canadian Club Dinner in London Premier McBride Speaks of the Sentiment in the Dominion in Favor of an Active and Efficient Canadian Navy.

London.—At a Canadian club dinner, Sir E. S. Rose presiding, the Lord Mayor and Sheriff's Hanson and Briggs were the chief guests. Among others present were Hon. Richard McBride, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. Cohn Campbell, John McHardy, Sir S. Graham, Donald McMaster, Hon. J. H. Turner, the Bishop of Saskatchewan, Major Malcolm Murray, Col. J. H. Burland, General Elliott, Captain and Lieut. Hanson and Sir T. Skinner.

Colonel Burland responding to a toast to the imperial forces eulogized the work done by Sir Frederick Borden for the militia. That body was unwilling to be classed as imperial reserves, but wished to be counted in the firing line from the first he remembered.

Premier McBride, responding to a toast to the Dominion, referred to the wonderful success that the Duke of Connaught was achieving in Canada and the gratification that his Royal Highness intended to make a western journey was creating. He suggested that the Lord Mayor should pay Canada a state visit on lines of his continental visits. The loyalty and patriotism of Canada had never been questioned, continued the speaker, but lately it has been intensified by political exigencies which perhaps it would not be fitting to enter into here.

Proceeding to discuss the navy question, Premier McBride said:

"I assure you intense interest is being taken in this question. We have assurance from Premier Borden that the government proposes to take up this question at once and deal with it effectively. We in British Columbia are reminded day by day of all that a navy means. I have confidence in Premier Borden's proposals, as he will do shortly, a strong policy making for an active and efficient Canadian navy he will have the entire Dominion behind him. One is very much encouraged to believe that there will be results and quickly, too, when one has watched the earnest, splendid fashion in which the first Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Churchill, has discharged the duties of his office. Without meaning any reflection to his predecessors, I think I may safely say that Mr. Churchill has made a name for himself unique in the annals of his department. I want to emphasize the strong determination of the Canadian people so far as I can gauge it to deal with this question quickly and we may expect good results from the fact that at the head of the admiralty there is such a strong personality as Mr. Winston Churchill."

SIX GOOD JOBS TO BE FILLED.

Trade Commissionerships for Canada in Half a Dozen Places Open.

Ottawa.—S. A. D. Bertrand, Canadian trade commissioner in Brazil, has been granted an order in council leave of absence for six months, and at the expiration of that time he will retire from the service. The retiring commissioner was appointed in 1911 and came from Winnipeg. This now leaves six commissionerships to be filled. The vacancies are Brazil, Cuba, China, Germany, Holland and France. The appointments to these positions will be announced shortly.

Look for Anti-Foreign War.

Paris.—Unrest among the natives of Morocco is causing grave apprehension at the war office.

It was officially announced that 5,000 troops have been ordered to start immediately to reinforce the French forces now in that country, and the government has planned to send other detachments should it become necessary.

The unrest that culminated in the Fez massacre is thought to be spreading throughout the country.

Fears are entertained that a general anti-foreign uprising is being planned.

New Field for Trade.

Ottawa.—The possibilities of developing a market for Canadian furniture in Argentina is suggested by a report received at the department of trade and commerce from the Canadian commissioner in that country. Practically all of the furniture used in Argentina is imported. Last year over a million dollars worth was imported from the United States. Only $700 worth was bought from Canada.

Get 170,000 Americans This Year.

Ottawa, Ont.—That Canada this season will draw from the various states across the border 100,000 immigrants, is the estimate of W. J. White, Inspector of United States agencies for the Dominion, who is in Ottawa. The estimate given by Mr. White is a considerable figure in increase over the figures last season, when 123,000 crossed the line to Canada.

U. S. Issues 3-Cent Coins.

Washington.—The government has issued orders to the United States mint to issue cent and three-cent coins.

Embargo on Fodder and Cattle.

Ottawa.—An order-in-council has been passed prohibiting for three months the importation into Canada of any hay, straw, fodder or food stuffs accompanying horses from continental Europe. The importation into Canada of cattle from Great Britain, Ireland and the Channel Islands on steamers carrying horses from the continent is also prohibited. Fear of glanders has led to these orders.

Connaught May Open Building.

Edmonton.—It is possible that the Governor-General will formally open the new parliament buildings. The question has been discussed by Mayor Armstrong and a committee at the city hall with the result that His Worship will confer with Premier Sifton and seek his views on the matter.

Nesbitt to Take Habeas Corpus Route.

Toronto, Ont.—Dr. W. Beattie Nesbitt, through his Chicago counsel, W. K. Patterson, will probably make application for release under a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Carpenter of the United States federal court at Chicago.

KILL BEAVER IN CYPRESS HILLS

Colonies Now So Numerous That Lands Are Being Flooded.

Swift Current.—Provincial game wardens are reducing the beaver colonies in the Cypress Hills, southwest of Swift Current, under government instructions on account of the flooding of lands in times of high water along streams inhabited by these animals, and the consequent damage sustained by settlers. The colonies have grown quite large under the immunity which they have enjoyed for some years, and their dams are now so numerous that the small rivers and creeks are choked with them. The government will sell the skins, and the farmers on whose land the animals are killed will receive forty per cent. of the proceeds. They will also receive some slight compensation in addition for any damage they may have sustained by having their land overflowed. The number of beaver will be kept down to insure their propagation and to prevent their extinction.

Big Schemes to Protect Forests.

Ottawa.—An aggressive fire protective and forestry policy is being carried out by the government and next summer the work of preserving the natural resources of the west will be carried out.

Complete arrangements have been made for a strict fire patrol all through the prairie provinces in the newly annexed territory of Manitoba and in the hinterlands of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

A great deal of money will be spent this year in organizing the new 3,000,000 acre forestry service on the eastern slope of the Rockies. Trails will be laid out, telephone lines installed and thorough preparations made to prevent fires.

Aborigine Gets Medal from King

London.—King George has awarded the Albert life-saving medal to an aboriginal Australian named "Neighbor."

The latter was a prisoner and was being led by a neck chain by a trooper. While the pair were crossing a swollen stream the trooper's horse got into difficulties and dislodged his rider, whom he kicked in the face.

The trooper was being swept off by the stream when "Neighbor," scornful of the opportunity to escape, rescued his captor after the greatest difficulty.

Brides Arrive for Western Husbands.

Montreal.—Twenty-five brides-elect bound for Western Canada to join grooms-elect, trooped off the C. P. R. steamer Lake Champlain when it arrived here recently. A majority of them are Scotch girls, the remainder being English. Most of them belong to the agricultural class. Their fiancés, it was learned, have none of them been more than two years in the West, but have prospered to such an extent that a bachelor's expenditure is now by no means the limit of their incomes.

TOTAL METHODIST VOTE 8 TO 1

Official Figures on Church Union Show 63,166 for; 8,040 Against.

Toronto.—Official figures of the Methodist vote on the question of organic union between the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches of Canada just compiled show that the proportional vote is almost eight to one in favor of present proposed basis.

Three hundred and sixty-nine congregations have sent in their vote showing 63,166 ballots for union and only 8,040 against.

The figures show 48,403 members over eighteen years of age in favor of union and 6,333 against.

SEPARATE AGREEMENT.

This Unique Suggestion is Causing No Little Curiosity.

London.—William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, in a letter to the Times, asks whether the country has not materials for a friendly consultation and a national compromise on the Home Rule question.

Pointing out what he regards as indication in this direction Mr. O'Brien says that while nobody on the ministerial side now laughs at Ulster's discontent, no Ulster leader has yet pledged himself to resist any settlement arrived at with the understanding that it has the approval of England.

The public is taking small interest in the Home Rule debate.

Considerable curiosity has been aroused in the course of the debate during the second reading of the question put to the opposition by Mr. Winston Churchill. Sir Edward Grey and other ministers, as to whether they would agree to the Home Rule bill if Ulster would be excluded. This has been interpreted in some quarters to mean that the government is inclined to consider an arrangement dealing with Ulsters separately.

SIFTON IN WESTERN GAS FIRM.

P. Burns, C. P. R. and C. N. R. Join in Big Scheme to Supply Natural Gas.

Calgary, Alta.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, chairman of the commission on conservation, was in Calgary recently. Although he avoided publicity, his visit is known to have to do with the business of the Canada Western Natural Gas, Heat, Light and Power Co., of which he is supposed to hold a large percentage of the stock. In this connection his name is mentioned with that of P. Burns, the C. P. R. and the C. N. R., all supposed to be interested in the big undertaking of piping gas from Bow Island to this city and to intermediate towns.

Great Bank Merger.

Toronto.—The News says: "The greatest banking merger, not only in the annals of Canadian banking, perhaps in the history of the world is being consummated according to information received by The News. The first step in the big merger will be the taking in of the Union Bank by the Bank of Montreal. When this purchase is consummated the enlarged Bank of Montreal will amalgamate with the new Royal Bank (Royal and Traders). The final product will be an institution with an authorized capital of at least $39,000,000 and a paid-up capital of $32,377,920."

Many Newcomers for West This Year.

Winnipeg.—"I should not be surprised to see immigration into Western Canada exceed 400,000 this year," said C. E. McPherson, assistant passenger traffic agent of the C. P. R. "Our returns, as well as those from other lands, show that the arrival of newcomers from the United States for the past four months is between 75 and 80 per cent. in excess of the corresponding period last year. There is also a big movement from the British Isles."

Baby Takes Airship Flight.

Paris.—The youngest airwoman made her first flight yesterday. She is Mlle. Brodin, and is just four years old. Her father received his airman's certificate on Friday, and made his first independent flight over Etampes yesterday, taking his daughter with him. The young airwoman gave her opinion of flying in two words. "Up again!" she said.

Chicago Drainage Canal.

Ottawa.—The decision of the United States secretary of war, Stimson, regarding the Chicago drainage canal scheme, which was so strongly opposed by the Canadian government and interests, is expected within a few days. Should the decision be unfavorable to Canada, it is probable that an appeal will be made to the joint international waterways commission.

Decorate Grave of Dickens.

Over the grave of Alfred Tennyson Dickens, the son of the novelist, a service in memory of his father was held under the auspices of the American Dickens league. The grave in Trinity cemetery was decorated with flowers from the Dickens societies.—New York Sun.

Flour Up 10 Cents a Barrel.

Winnipeg, Man.—Owing to the continuous upward tendency of the wheat market the Western Canada Flour Mills Company announce an advance of ten cents per barrel on their various brands.

King Nicholas Seriously Ill.

Cettinje, Montenegro.—King Nicholas is seriously ill and owing to his advanced age there is considerable anxiety as to the outcome.

Harry Lauder Breaks Down.

London.—Harry Lauder, the Scotch vaudeville performer, is seriously ill of an internal ailment, caused by overwork.

"I see," said Wiggles, "that Bobby Fancier and his wife have got a divorce."

"Really?" said Jiggles. "What a sad case. Who gets the custody of the poodle?"—Harper's Weekly.

THE MARKET REPORT.

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

After the passing of another week there has been no development of new features in the grain situation but a continuation of much the same conditions which have obtained for the past few weeks. Weather conditions as affecting the growth and development of the United States winter wheat crop, and the planting of the spring wheat crops in North Dakota and Western Canada, are for the time being the things which the grain trade are watching, with, we think, keener interest than usual, and which influence the world's wheat markets almost more than any other factor. No one interested in the grain trade, who is ordinarily well informed on these matters, doubts now that America is certain to raise the smallest winter wheat crop she has done for several years, and that it will put the United States absolutely on a domestic basis for another year at least. It is frequently stated that the failure is so complete in many districts of the spring wheat states that the crop experts have not reported it so bad as it really is. This last week the reports have been coming mostly from Kansas and Nebraska, and in these states a good deal of the crop is in excellent condition, but even in them there are districts of comparative if not absolute failure, and in Kansas it is stated that from 800,000 to 1,000,000 acres will be abandoned and sown to oats, or plowed up to plant with corn. The May crop of the United States Agricultural Department will be issued shortly. Among other things it will give an estimate of the winter wheat acreage abandoned and the condition of the growing crops as on May 1st. No doubt it will indicate the prospect of a very small crop of winter wheat. Mr. B. W. Snow, the crop expert, has issued his May report, and puts the condition of the United States winter wheat at 75.9 with an abandonment of 18.2 per cent. of the acreage planted, indicating a probable yield of 358,000,000 bu. against 431,000,000 bu. the final government estimate for the yield of 1911. As a rule, Mr. Snow's estimate and the government estimate are very close to each other. The lowest estimate of conditions on May 1st by the government in the last fourteen years was 76.2 in 1899. In 1911 it was 86.1. Owing to an abundance of rain everywhere over the winter wheat crop except in the state of Kansas, during the last several weeks, accompanied by a temperature a few degrees below the normal average; growth is backward and unless very warm, dry weather comes in May and June the winter wheat harvest will be delayed. Last year owing to the dry, hot weather it was very early. In seeding of the spring wheat Southern Minnesota and South Dakota got started early and seeding is finished over these areas. In Northern Dakota, however, and Northern Minnesota and over most of Western Canada, although there are spots where seeding has been done early, the bulk of it has not made seasonable progress. This results from the broken weather with snow and rain, which has been coming at intervals since the middle of April. There are districts in Manitoba and Saskatchewan where little or no wheat has been sown yet. The temperature has been below the normal for the time of year and unless the rainy weather stops at once and a good steady spell of fair weather sets in, it will curtail the acreage that might have been put under wheat for the season is advancing and getting too late to prudently sow wheat. The wet weather has, also hindered general farm work of which so much more than usual was left over from last fall. The fact that the damage reports to the United States winter wheat has been to stimulate the speculative markets and keep prices up, but during the week fluctuations in prices have been erratic and towards the end, there has been a decline from the high points reached during the week. This, of course, is natural in speculative operations, but does not necessarily imply any particular weakness in the strong situation and a decline now is likely to be followed by advances later. The statistical situation is still working mostly against bullish hopes. The only item favoring the bull side is a decrease in the United States visible supply of 1,713,000 bu. a year ago. This leaves the aggregate United States visible at 422,242,000 bu., against about 20,000,000 bu. a year ago. World's shipments were larger last week as compared with last year, being 11,760,000 bu. against 11,082,000 bu. last year. The delayed Argentine shipments bulked up largely last week, causing the larger aggregate and the same is likely to happen this week again. The quantity of ocean wheat is now 54,082,000 bu. against 51,082,000 bu. a year ago. The Canadian visible supply increased last week 216,000 bu. against a decrease of 2,500,000 bu. last year, the total now being 31,400,000 bu., against 11,081,000 bu. a year ago. In regard to crop prospects outside of America and Canada there is no special change reported regarding the prospects of European crops which may be taken as showing an average prospect for the time of year.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson VII.—Second Quarter, for May 19, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. v. 17-26. Memory Verses, 17, 18—Golden Text, Rom. xlii, 8, R.V.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The gospel by Matthew is in a special sense the gospel of the kingdom, and the key word of the kingdom is righteousness, absolutely perfect according to the interpretation of the commandments here given by our Lord, from which we learn that a sinful look breaks a command as much as an act, and from Jas. ii, 10, we learn that "whoever shall keep the whole law and yet offend in one point is guilty of all." It must be an inward righteousness of the heart, not like that of the Pharisees, of whom our Lord said that, although they appeared righteous outwardly to men, they were within full of hypocrisy and iniquity, outwardly whited sepulchres, inwardly all uncleanness (Matt. xxiii, 25-28). In our lesson He says in no case can such righteousness enter the kingdom (verse 20), and in Isa. lxi, 6, we are told that all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags. Concerning the kind that God requires we are told, "There is none righteous—no not one," and when we are brought face to face with the law every mouth is stopped and all the world guilty before God (Rom. iii, 10, 19). Men have many standards. God has but one, called "the righteousness of God" (Rom. iii, 5, 22; x, 3; II. Cor. v, 21). In verse 17 of our lesson He said that He came to fulfill the law and the prophets, and to John the Baptist He said: "It becometh us to fulfill all righteousness" (III, 15). There was neither flaw nor failure in His righteousness. He could truthfully say: "I do always those things that please the Father, and the Father testified concerning Him: 'This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased'" (John viii, 29; Matt. iii, 17; xvii, 5). He was the Lamb without blemish and without spot. He knew no sin; He was holy, harmless, undefiled and separate from sinners (I. Peter, i, 19; II, 22; II. Cor. v, 21; Heb. vii, 26). His was righteousness indeed, and nothing short of His perfect righteousness can enable any one to appear before God acceptably. The case on our side is therefore utterly hopeless as far as any efforts of ours are concerned, for "by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in His sight" (Rom. iii, 20). The very best that man can do comes far short of His perfect righteousness. What a gloomy out-view means whereby we need not be visited means whereby we need not be driven away from Him (II. Sam. xiv, 14). Not only did the Son of God give in His life a sample of the perfect righteousness which God requires; but, having no sin of His own, He bore our sins in His own body on the tree. There was laid on Him the iniquity of us all. He was made a sin offering for us, and when we plead guilty and receive Him we become accepted in Him and He is accepted for us, as it is written in the law concerning the guilty man and his perfect offering: "It shall be accepted for him" (Lev. i, 4). The priest had no need to examine the man—he pleaded guilty—but he did examine the sacrifice, and if it was without blemish, according to the law, the guilty man identifying himself with his perfect sacrifice by laying his hand upon it was accepted because of his sacrifice, and the blood was shed, the life laid down, for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul (Lev. xvii, 11; Heb. ix, 22). What a wonderful redemption it is, and wholly of the Lord. He took my place as a guilty one and suffered in my stead, making an end of my sins, that I might take His place before God, clothed with His righteousness. How wonderfully beautiful are such words as "justified freely by His grace"; "made unto us wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, redemption"; "in whom we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins." Yet there are multitudes in so-called Christian lands, churchgoers and church members, who, being ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God, not understanding that Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth (Rom. x, 3, 4; III, 24; I. Cor. i, 30; II. Cor. v, 21; Eph. i, 6, 7). If our eyes have been opened to see these glorious truths, let us joyfully sing, "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord; my soul shall be joyful in my God, for He hath clothed me with the garment of salvation. He hath covered me with the robe of righteousness" (Isa. lxi, 10). As quickly as Joshua, the high priest, lost his filthy garments and the devil for a companion and received beautiful raiment and the Lord for his friend (Zech. iii, 1-6), so quickly may any sinner who is ready to plead guilty and receive as a free gift the perfect righteousness of God in Christ pass from death to life and begin to live the new and blessed life of a child of the kingdom, a joint heir with Christ, proving to others by such love as that of last lesson that God is love and not willing that any should perish (I. John iv, 8, 16; II. Peter iii, 9).

Band Visits Neapolis

A very enjoyable time was spent at Neapolis on Wednesday evening last when the Citizens Band went out there to give an open air concert. The band was supplemented by about seven members of the Neapolis band, all under the leadership of Bandmaster Gathercole, and the music supplied by the combined bands was a great surprise to all who heard them and the efforts of the band was greatly appreciated by the large number of the residents of the Neapolis district who were present.

A baseball game between the Didsbury band boys and Neapolis was started but did not reach more than two innings as darkness was coming on. We will not give the score because we would not be believed if we did. It was some baseball game.

When it got dark the band adjourned to the hall and continued the concert, and readings were given by Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Prout and Guy Oldham.

Ice cream and fruit drinks were dispensed and the visitors were treated to a fine lunch provided by the ladies of the district, who demonstrated the fact that they must all hold degrees for domestic science.

At the close of proceedings a hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Geo. Liesemer, chairman of the band, and seconded by H. E. Osmond, in which the Neapolis residents were invited to Didsbury some evening through the summer for a band concert and social time.

Rev. R. Simons is attending district meeting at Carstairs. Mr. Frank Jackson is also in attendance as lay delegate.

The Sunday School is busy preparing for children's day and church anniversary, which is to be held on June the 9th.

A while since Mr. Arthur Jackson imported a number of fine horses. These are working splendidly on his farm. We notice he has one five-horse team and three four-horse teams working in one field.

The Swingle Brothers are also working three six-horse teams. This is how we farm in this part of Sunny Alberta. Hurry up neighbors! Westerdale is going ahead.

To rise, to settle down. Many a man will devour a girl with kisses, only to find after marriage that she disagrees with him. There is room at the top—still more at the bottom. Don't marry a man to reform him, girls, unless you have a good profession or trade. If in hot water, take comfort from the thought that you will soon, like an egg, get hardened to it.

A Cure for Fever and Ague.—Disturbance of the stomach and liver always precedes attacks of fever and ague, showing derangement of the digestive organs and deterioration in the quality of the blood. In these ailments Parmer's Vegetable Pills have been found most effective, abating the fever and subduing the ague in a few days. There are many who are subject to these distressing disturbances and to these there is no better preparation procurable as a means of relief.

Has Bones Badly Beaten.

SPASMS OF COUGHING

And Frantic Gasping for Breath Common to Bronchitis and Asthma.

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Both bronchitis and asthma are diseases of the nerves as well as of the tracheal tubes, and for this reason only slight irritation or excitement is required to bring on the terrible coughing spells and frantic gasping for breath.

There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine to bring relief to sufferers from bronchitis and asthma.

It soothes the irritated nerves, eases and prevents the attacks of coughing and enables the system to throw off the disease. In fact the great popularity of this medicine is largely due to its success in curing bronchitis and severe chest colds.

Since permanent recovery depends largely on getting the nervous system thoroughly restored, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of the greatest assistance in revitalizing the wasted nerve cells. This combined treatment is ideal as a cure for bronchitis and asthma, for, while the Linseed and Turpentine brings relief to the organs of respiration, the Nerve Food restores the body to full health and strength, and enables it to fight off disease.

There are many imitations of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every bottle of the genuine; 25c a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Minard's Liniment, the Lumberman's Friend.

Physician at Watering-place (to patient's husband)—And after all, the great thing for your wife is exercise. Does she take any? Patient Husband—Take any! I should say she did. Why, doctor, she changes her dress at least six times a day.

Holloway's Corn Cure takes the corn out by the roots. Try it and prove it.

"Was it an elaborate dinner?" "Very." "Plenty of champagne?" "Flowed just like water, but that wasn't the chief display." "That so? Were the favors unusual?" "They were of solid gold. But what really attracted the most attention was that there seemed to be an unlimited supply of butter."—Judge.

Bacon—Somebody said there was something stunning about your wife's new dress. I don't see it. Egbert—Of course, you don't. You don't suppose she'd leave the price mark on it, do you?

"I Want You to Have My New Portable Granary"

"I have a money-saving invention—handy granaries to allow field threshing over your farm. Move them about each year. You save long hauls at harvest time. In spring you scatter small straw stacks—no burning of straw."

"These granaries come in compact bundles. A boy can set up and bolt one together in a few hours. Four padlocks protect the grain. Separator delivery into a spout on the side or into roof manhole—saves work during threshing. Your grain is protected from vermin, wet and thieves. I sell it where you are ready, loading direct from the granary into your wagon, or bagging it. No dusty or heated grain. I get my granary and be independent of elevators for selling. Sell at the highest price, no matter how long you store your grain. The Pedlar Granary protects you."

"Write me for my booklet. It shows how profitable my Granary is even on a single quarter-section farm. Use it for 1912. The Book Tells of Big Money for You."

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Lynchburg, Va., writes: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

Sunny Alberta! How's this for fine weather? The official thermometer readings given by Mr. C. L. Peterson for Wednesday was 80 degrees in the shade and 110 degrees in the sun and the thermometer has kept up around these figures for the last two or three days. The self-registering thermometer gave 44 degrees at 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning, showing that the nights are warm, too. Fine growing weather all right.

Mother's Day in Didsbury

Last Sunday afternoon a little ceremony was held in the Presbyterian Sunday School that should be always remembered by those present, especially by the children, as one of the most enjoyable hours of their lives. At least it struck the writer in that way. The occasion was the celebration of "Mother's Day," which has been inaugurated in Alberta by the Sunday School Association and which held all over the continent of America on that day, the idea being that this one day should be set aside in love to the mothers of the land.

The programme was an interesting one from the commencement, and consisted of hymns and songs, a review of the Sunday School lesson and addresses on the meaning of "Mother's Day."

The addresses were given by H. W. Chambers, superintendent of the Sunday School, G. B. Sexsmith, Mayor Atkins and H. E. Osmond. Mr. and Mrs. Parker Reed sang an excellent solo. The programme was greatly appreciated by those present.

The church was finely decorated with plants and cut flowers for the occasion and each mother present and the participants in the programme received a white carnation symbolical of "Mother's Day."

The superintendent and teachers, Mrs. P. Reed, Miss Wheelan, Mrs. W. Martin, are to be congratulated on the good work they are doing and also the thanks of those present at this enjoyable meeting.
